

The Department of Human Service Programs,
City of Cambridge, seeks a
Community Engagement Team
Co-Leader

Since 2007, the Community Engagement Team (CET), a multi-agency collaborative, has reached out to under-served Cambridge families and connected them to community events and resources, developed community leaders, and supported agencies in working with a diverse community. The CET's model includes two complementary driving forces:

- Leadership Development: The CET's multi-cultural outreach workers are community members who provide agencies with feedback on culturally appropriate practices and assist agencies with outreach to underserved Cambridge families.
- Coordinated Outreach: The programs and organizations involved in the CET have made a commitment not only to build leadership capacity in the community, but also to coordinate our efforts.

We are looking for a CET Co-Leader who will:

- Co-facilitate and coordinate the completion of CET programming
- Oversee work of 8-10 part-time CET outreach workers
- Oversee the CET's technical assistance to agencies
- Participate in city committees and task forces and developing collaborative relationships with agencies to support their outreach to underserved Cambridge families
- Play an integral role at the Community Learning Center, where the position is based
